INTRODUCTION
The Issue and the Research 1

CHAPTER 1
The Question of Anti-Export Bias in Sri Lanka 6

1.1 Sri Lanka among the East Asian Newly Industrialized Countries 6
1.2 Sri Lanka and the NICs: Trade Strategy and Trade Bias 9
1.2.1 The Choice of Trade Strategy 10
1.2.2 The Level of Anti-Export Bias 11
1.3 Exchange Rate Policy and Export Competitiveness 15
1.4 Reforms of Commercial Policy after 1977 18
1.4.1 Tariff Reforms 18
1.4.2 New Taxes on Imports 19
1.4.3 Export Promotion Incentives 20
1.4.4 Reforms in Domestic Production Taxes 21
1.5 Effective Protection Studies in Sri Lanka 21
1.6 Summary 23
Notes 25

CHAPTER 2
The Choice of Trade Strategy: A Sketch of Theory and Evidence 28

2.1 Outward versus Inward Oriented Trade Strategy 28
2.1.1 Export Orientation in terms of Neutral Protection 29
2.1.2 Export Orientation in terms of Ultra Subsidy Protection 31
2.1.3 Negative Effects of Excessive Protection 33
2.1.4 Complementarity of Protection between Import Substitution and Export Promotion 34
2.1.5 Export Orientation in Practice 34
2.2 The Validity of Arguments against Outward Orientation 36
2.2.1 Export Orientation and Infant Industries 36
2.2.2 Competition and Competitiveness 38
2.2.3 Comparative Advantage, Efficiency and Economies of Scale 39
2.3 Trade Strategy and Growth 41
2.3.1 Empirical Support 41
2.3.2 The Function of Technological and Economic Factors 43
2.4 Summary 46
Notes 48

CHAPTER 3
The Theory of Anti-Export Bias 51

3.1 Determination of Anti-Export Bias 52
3.1.1 Trade Strategy and Effective Protection 52
3.1.2 Definition of Anti-Export Bias 54
3.1.3 Contributions to the Measurement of Anti-Export Bias 55
3.2 A Two-Sector Model of Anti-Export Bias in Trade Theory 57
3.2.1 Illustration of Nominal and Effective Anti-Export Bias 58
3.2.2 Changes in Production, Consumption and Trade Patterns 61
3.3 Formulating Anti-Export Bias Coefficients: A Multi-Commodity Model 63
3.3.1 Nominal and Effective Anti-Export Bias Coefficients 64
3.3.2 Commodity and Technological Homogeneity between Import Substitution and Export-Oriented Activities 66
3.3.3 Treatment of Nontraded Inputs and the Effective Anti-Export Bias Coefficient 67
3.4 The Effects of Changes in Protective Measures 68
3.5 Negative Value Added and Production Inefficiency 73
3.6 Implications of the Assumptions 74
3.7 Summary 76
Notes 78

CHAPTER 4
Anti-Export Bias in the Manufacturing Sector 82

4.1 The Sample of Survey Data on Manufacturing Production 82
4.2 The Method of Weighting the Averages 85
4.3 Interindustry Distribution Pattern of Nominal Anti-Export Bias 86
4.4 Correlation between Nominal and Effective Price Effects 87
4.5 Effective Anti-Export Bias Coefficients 91
4.5.1 Inter-industry Distribution Pattern of Effective Anti-Export Bias 91
4.5.2 Effective Anti-Export Bias and Export Performance 98
4.5.3 The Variance and the Average of Effective Anti-Export Bias Coefficients 102
4.6 Indirect Protective Measures and Effective Anti-Export Bias 105
4.7 Effective Protection to Foreign Investors in the Investment Promotion Zones 106
4.8 Summary 108
Notes 111

CHAPTER 5
Relative Efficiency, Inefficiency and Anti-Export Bias 114

5.1 Value Added in Import Substitution and Export Promotion 115
5.1.1 Domestic and Free Trade Value Added 115
5.1.2 Free Trade Value Added and Effective Anti-Export Bias 120
5.2 Allocative Efficiency and Effective Anti-Export Bias 122
5.2.1 Production Activities with Negative Free Trade Value Added 122
5.2.2 The Effects of Inefficiency on Effective Anti-Export Bias 123
5.3 Summary 128
Notes 130

CHAPTER 6
The Response of Anti-Export Bias to Policy Reforms 132

6.1 Reforms of the Structure of Protection 132
6.2 Updating Anti-Export Bias Coefficients: Measurement Issues 134
6.3 The Response of Nominal Anti-Export Bias to Policy Reforms 135
6.4 The Response of Effective Anti-Export Bias to Policy Reforms 138
6.4.1 Changes in Industry-wise EBAX Coefficients 138
6.4.2 Changes in the Average and the Variance 142
6.5 The Effectiveness of the Reforms of Commercial Policy 145
6.6 Summary 148
Notes 151

CHAPTER 7
Conclusion 153

7.1 The Model of Anti-Export Bias 153
7.2 Major Findings of the Study 154
7.3 Some Reservations 158
7.3.1 Methodological Issues 158
7.3.2 Limitations of the Estimates of Anti-Export Bias 159
7.4 Policy Implications 160

APPENDIX I
Empirical Application of the Model of Anti-Export Bias 164

APPENDIX II
Estimation Results of Anti-Export Bias 170

APPENDIX III
Quantitative Restrictions on Imports and Exports 182
